Dedication

The staff members of The Seer dedicate this annual to Mrs. A.L. McGaugh, our Dean of Women, and to Mr. A.L. Jackson, our Dean of Men. Their lives have meant happiness to those who know them and those with whom they serve. There is never a time that they will not interrupt their schedule to answer questions and listen to problems. Understanding is an asset we students find in their lives which gives us a feeling of relaxation, security, and trust. Their mutual trust and love have won places of esteem in the hearts of both students and faculty; through their concern for Clarke, they have helped to maintain and promote the goals and standards of this institution. We are proud to dedicate this volume of our yearbook to you.

. Our President Speaks...

To witness your progress in knowledge, skill and scholastic achievement is a source of gratitude. To see you go still further in the growth of a great spiritual life with a high degree of dedication to the will of God is a joy unspeakable.

"Add to your faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge---"

You have inspired us to seek after these things; and undergirded with them, we march forward to seek for a richer life.

PRESIDENT AND MRS. W.L. COMPERE

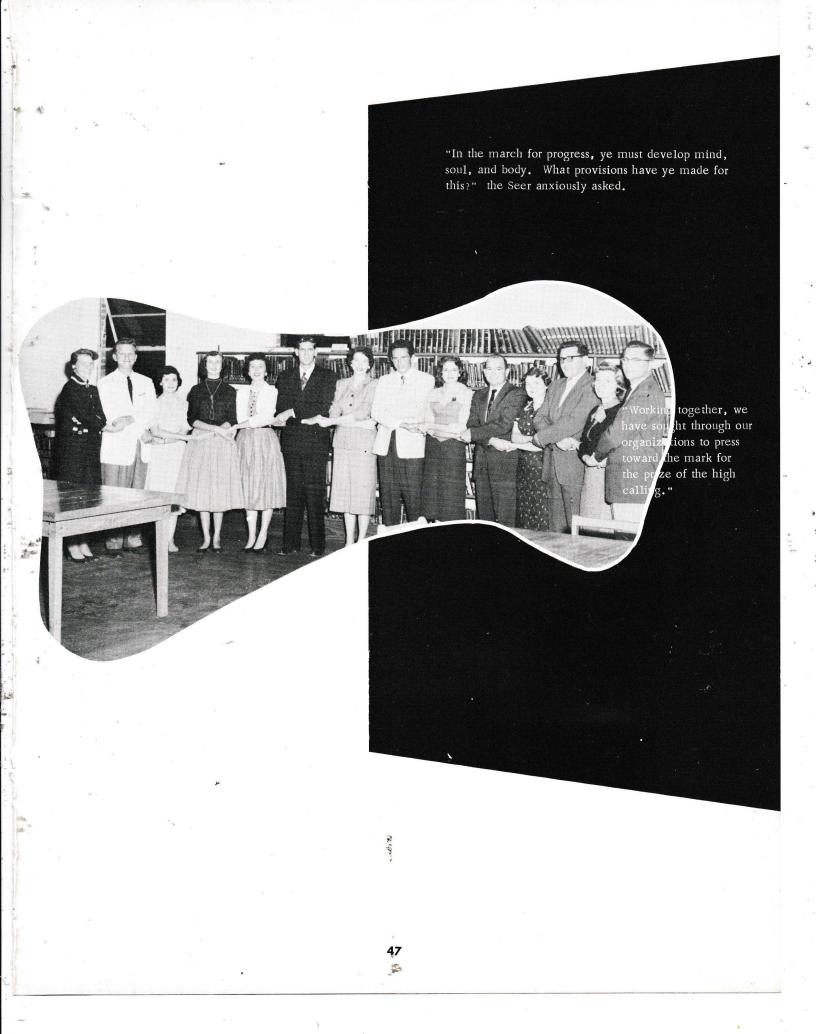

Throughout the days of great tasks and triumph victories, your smiles continue to glow; your hearts are filled with love, and your vision of the future makes our dreams become realities.

As we, the students, watched the "Sanders Memorial Library" being built, we dreamed of the day when books would line the shelves. That dream came true one November day in this year of 1956. With this new building come wonderful thoughts of happy and enlightening experiences we shall share within its walls.

Remember your first day at Clarke? Remember your first banquet here? It has all been so much fun that we cannot describe it except -have a purpose in life. Yes, just as that first banquet is with the whole big wonderful year. Just as tables were left clutter night in September, so we will leave Clarke, cluttered with memories of joys Next year will be even greater than any before. It will mark fifty years of success for this institution. We, the annual staff, have enjoyed our endeavors to capture the "Progress" of this year 1956-57. We leave Clarke with a new zeal to march with time. We leave you freshmen knowing you will work diligently to make 1957–58 a year of greater achievements. We wish you God speed for the coming year -- our Golden Anniversary
